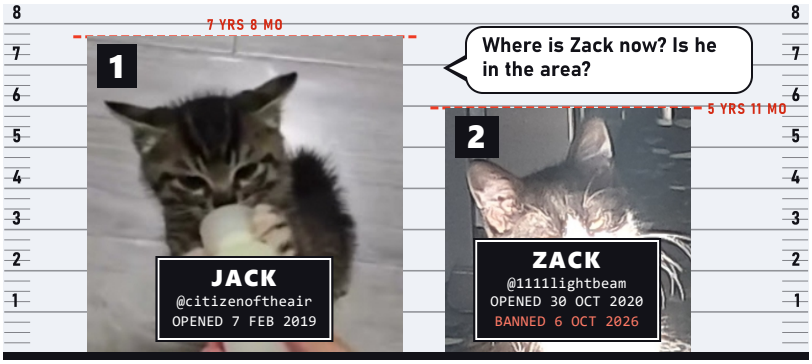
Who Is Jack Zack?

DAY EIGHT OF THE BAN



The lineup. No. 1, Jack; No. 2, zack, as of his ban. "They similar cat pfp," My Name noted at 2:24 a.m. The wall is marked in years since each account was opened: the newcomer is the taller cat by twenty months. Bubble: Jack, 2:28 a.m. Lineup ours.

11:56 A.M. · ANSWERED 3:22 P.M.
JEH: Who is Jack Zack?
JACK: Nobody.

Eight days after zack was banned, a kitten walked in and asked for him.

zack was banned on Tuesday 6 October at 8:45 p.m., for having a chatbot work out where a chatter's photograph was taken and posting the answer. At 1:37 a.m. on Wednesday an account called Jack, with a tabby kitten for an avatar, spoke for the first time, in reply to an old message of Hugh's describing what zack had done: "Where's the fun in that."

My Name greeted him fifteen minutes later. "Hey Zack. I mean Jack."

"Who's Zack," said Jack. "I'm Jack."

"Same," said My Name. "Smae," said Jack.

Stackhouse welcomed him at 1:56 ("We always love new blood around here") and sent the order filled above. At 2:50 My Name broke the news.

"Zack got banned." "Evidently."

"Perhaps Jack will not suffer the same fate."

"What did he do."

"It will be revealed to you in due time. For now, enjoy the lounge and there is free refreshments in the foyer."

"No. Tell me what he did. Now. Do you have Red Bull."

"No." "Unenjoyable."

6:42 p.m.: the accusation

"I feel like you're a zack alt tbh," wrote Thunderstud. dot, who had come back on Friday saying "I miss Zack," took offence for the newcomer: "That's unsubstantiated and it's fucking disgusting you'd assume like that."

"Facts don't care about your feelings," said Jack. "Look at my name. It says Jack."

"You talk just like him as well," said Thunderstud. "You talk like Hitler," said Jack.

FenceJumper moved the inquiry to Jack's legs. At 7:18 Stackhouse entered a finding: "I bet Jack has huge and meaty legs. Nothing like that limp wristed Zack." zack, he added, had been banned because the in-group "felt threatened by his virile masculinity." "Scapegoat," said Jere. Jack's next question was how long open tomato sauce lasts in the fridge.

7:36 p.m.: the supermarket

Aura then cross-examined him about a supermarket until 8:20, when Jack blocked Aura: "I dont do well with domineering personalities. No offense." Transcript and textual analysis: page 2.

My Name, at 8:31: "I cannot imagine the burden of knowing what happened to Zack and not telling Jack."

Nobody has been charged.

Text lines only, links, pictures and quoted replies stripped: Jack's 153 (all Wednesday 14 October), zack's 286 (1 to 6 October, last week's log), My Name's 274 (this week). Account dates from Discord ids. Counts ours.

The counts. All three accounts have cats for avatars. Jack starts two lines in three in lower case, zack not quite half, and Jack drops the apostrophe from "dont" and "im" at nearly twice zack's rate. In 1,720 words Jack never once typed lol. zack managed three in 3,902.

The accounts. Jack's is twenty months older than zack's, so it was not made to dodge last Tuesday's ban.

The control. My Name filed the first order below, Jeh the second. My Name ends two lines in three with a full stop: not zack, by any count here. "The difference is only known to the true memer," he said on Monday.

The supermarket, Wednesday, 7:36 to 8:20 p.m.

Abridged. The store's name is withheld, which is rather the point.

7:36 AURA One of the dumbest chatters in a while. You don't even wanna know. Doxxed a beloved chatter and then delusioned himself into believing it wasn't doxxing.

JACK What, like his house address??? Wow.

AURA Nah. Wait, Jack. What are your thoughts on doxxing?

JACK It's bad.

AURA Would you post the coordinates of someone's local [supermarket] if they posted a photo of them in the parking lot?

7:45 JACK First you said doxxing, then you asked me if I'd post the [supermarket]. What about the [supermarket]?

7:48 JACK This is making me uncomfortable.

JERE The dgg Phil detective agency.

AURA No, this is philosophy.

JACK To like go shopping?

7:53 JERE You guys would jail the wrong guy for sure. The poor grocer.

MY NAME We got the investigative skills of a donut.

8:00 JACK Like you ask me if I like water and I say yes and then you say Hitler liked water, do you like Hitler? ... No offense.

8:18 JACK Ohhhh. I get it. They doxxed the chatter's store? Store address? Also, who are we talking about again?

8:20 JACK Strange interaction. No offense, but I'll block you for the time being.

ENTERED BY QUIGLEY ●●●● HUGH ●●● HPCR ● JEH ● OLANG ● JERE ● SIZZURP ● CERTIFIED: 0

SATURDAY, 1:01 A.M. The argument arrived already running, carried over from Thursday night. Hugh set out his Spinoza for Jere: "an embodied mind and a minded body are just two ways of talking about the same thing." Jere's summary of the position: Hugh thinks "Houses nd Tables and Chairs are bodies." He compared it to a man who argues against evolution for an hour and then mentions he is a young-earth creationist.

At 9:48 a.m. Hugh issued the manifesto: "We aren't slaves to the interpretive schema incentivised by biology, we should have an open comportment to being and handle new things with due care and resist the dismissal reflex." HPCR, 9:56: "Such a straw man. I think you are incapable of having this convo. Slaves to interpretive schema lol."

dot joined the defence having read three messages. "Haven't read Ponty or husserl seems like a waste of time." HPCR: "It's better than reading deleuze." dot: "I have Deleuze brain worms it's over." Quigley: "Phil RFK jr." At 10:15 dot put the case plainly: "A body may do anything and you're being exclusionary if you don't just say yes hugh that's correct." HPCR asked him to stop trying to participate. "That's true," said dot.

THE EXCHANGE · 10:21 A.M.

HPCR	You're very stupid
Hugh	You're upset
HPCR	You're dumb
Hugh	You said that already
HPCR	No I didn't
Hugh	Pedant
HPCR	Stupid and dumb are not the same Hugh. Come on. Willowite
Jeh 10:24	Remember when we were all friends? Me neither. Fuck you

When HPCR said he was "good on talking to you," Mans answered with a full stop. Stackhouse ruled for the phenomenologists: "ponty is sick. he just has the sauce." Quigley found it all reminiscent of Dewey's reflex arc; Jeh wondered whether Anthony had ever read Dr. Seuss. HPCR brought papers. Hugh read one to the end ("what a waste of time reading this was") and at 11:55 asked whether anyone would engage "or are we just gonna play with our dicks."

HPCR left at 12:04: "I don't know what you want except to giddily talk about your fav subject." At 12:37 Hugh called a machine as witness, four screenshots of Claude on whether it has a body, and added: "This is chats opportunity to (incorrectly) take me as reading claudes words as an ultimate authority."

Jere returned at 9:01 p.m. for a drive-by: "ironically, this is you being a slave to your interpretive schema." At 9:15: "of course you wont agree, the happy slave never does." Hugh's reply came at 11:20 p.m. "We're all slaves to the multiplicity of interpretation, to be a slave to a monotonicity is the issue."

THE BENCH · MONDAY 12 OCTOBER, 3:28 TO 5:28 P.M.

The People v. Nick Land

Philosopher or methhead: two hours of argument, one defender, five verdicts, two machines called as witnesses, and a Deweyan who had read some snippets.

MONDAY, 3:28 P.M. dot asked Hugh why Deleuze, a vitalist, could not be an anti-humanist too. Hugh, 3:53: "probably because anti-humanism is a fascist project." dot held that Deleuze rejected the human as "the privileged center", which was not "super different from Mr land." Hugh, 4:00: "you need to read up on your braidotti ... this is post-anthropocentrism, nothing anti-human about it."

dot, 4:07: "The furthest we can go with land is say something along the lines of he supports the dissolution of humans/humanity." bardiel1: "he's a zombie irl."

The prosecution

At 4:21 bardiel1 entered a Substack post titled "nick-land-lolcow." Hugh: "nice engagement with a bunch of tweets lol." bardiel1 offered "subhuman" as the more apt descriptor. Hugh's defence, 4:29: "the issue is that you dont get to just dance around land and say oo oo aa aa look schizo oldfrog muttering nonesense bc you'll look like a retard when he says something that takes actual work to untangle."

bardiel1, 4:30: "am i supposed to be impressed his thoughts are borderline incomprehensible lol." Hugh posted two books. bardiel1: "jesus christ 700 pages." My Name, on a page of Land's 1990s typography: "More comprehensible than Schopenhauer."

The humanist

Quigley, 4:33: "It may not be hatred of humanity, but indifference to humanity is not only still anti-humanist but arguably worse than hatred." dot: "Tony is a deer anti human?" Quigley: "Is a deer a theoretical approach/system?" dot: "Im not trying to I don't have bandwidth for Tony today." The deer debate ended with bardiel1: "oh deer."

> "Seems like Dewey is a good response to Land overall, from the little I've gathered.

The defence rests

HPCR arrived at 4:49: "Land is so smart yall." Hugh: "definitely not." He defended the early work as "unique and contemporary, prescient and relevant today - you're upset." HPCR: "Prescient and relevant lololol." Hugh: "heard of this lil thing called Chag giptity."

The Cult of Willow split. Charlie, 5:03: "None of Land's works are cogent (outside of thirst for annihilation, which you won't care about) and he's a crackpot methhead." HPCR, 5:05: "It's wild that when I say this Hugh has a heart attack but doesn't bother when you say it lol." My Name: "There is pre-political Land and post-political Land." HPCR: "There is just one idiot."

Charlie, on the Dewey line: "Wait.... He may be on to something." dot offered Quigley a twenty-page essay. "20 pages is pushing it but feel free to link it." dot: "Actually 12 pages even better."

Adjourned

At 5:25 Charlie invited Quigley to voice: "VC with Charlie not dot or hugh, we'll have a good normal discussion anthony don't worry." HPCR: "Capital is the real agent bro." My Name: "The real agent is actually just Extropy." Charlie: "We can move if idiots come in." Hugh, 5:28:

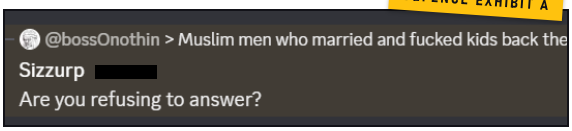
DEFENCE EXHIBIT A



The question, in the witness's own screenshot, entered with the comment "lol". Clock time blacked out by the clerk.
POSTED BY BOSSONOTHIN · SAT 2:03 P.M.

"Are you refusing to answer?" "Have I ever refused to answer a question?" Sizzurp put one question about the seventh century to bossOnothin, three times by his own count. Ape cross-examined at 5 a.m., drunk on his own admission. HPCR ruled it trolling. Aura passed the only sentence.

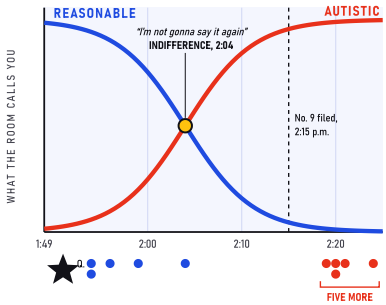
The indifference curve



Jere, 2:13 p.m.: your comments should meet "the point in which people are indifferent between calling you reasonable and autistic." The curves are his theory; the dots are Sizzurp's ten messages pointing back at his question, by the minute. The crossing is Sizzurp's own, 2:04: "I'm not gonna say it again."

SCHOLIA · 1:39 TO 1:41 P.M.

The witness's four points

i "There are 4 (extant) schools." Sizzurp: "I said 4 or 5 so yeah."

ii "They are not some static thing ... they are living and breathing."

iii "The most prominent Sunni Islamic authority (al Azhar) has set the age of marriage in today's age at 18."

iv The article "is clearly just a polemic," citing one source per school.

And: "You need to learn Arabic. There's no other way. I'm serious." Aura: "Claude knows Arabic."

FROM THE BENCH

HPCR rules, uninvited

2:26 p.m.: "They're trolling you. ... Cause it's funnier than having the convo. They don't really think you're a ped defending ped." 2:30: "See, boss, you just troll them back."

Sizzurp, on appeal: "There was a little collaborative masturbation, but to interpret that as what was primarily going on is a major misread." HPCR: "Sizz and Ape think they have good convos together, but they actually get stupider when around each other."

(1:21 p.m. Sizzurp enters a preacher and a hadith card. To Ape: "When you converting to Islam?")

JERE: It's not what it looks like. SIZZURP: It's out of context.

SIZZURP: I think I read like four or five major Sunni schools of jurisprudence supported pre-pubescent child marriages.

BOSSONOTHIN: Stop talking. SIZZURP: No. (The witness's points on the article are in the margin.)

EXAMINATION BY SIZZURP

Q. You don't think it's disgusting? Like, morally and physically repulsive?

A. Not really, because I understand that it's just an intellectual exercise for them.

Q. I just meant if you think it's morally disgusting that there were Muslim men who married and fucked kids back then.

A. Why are we singling out Muslim men? AURA: Wait till you hear about the Christian churches.

Q. Are you refusing to answer?

ALREADY ANSWERED — the witness, 1:57 p.m.

A. Have I ever refused to answer a question?

A. You asked me if I am going to answer the question. I answered with "when have I refused to answer." What do you think that means?

Q. For the third time, this is the question I am asking for an answer on.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY APE, AT 5 A.M.

APE: He thinks fucking kids is based. You can move on, Sizz.

BOSSONOTHIN: Guys, are you actually retarded or trolling?

APE: Yeah, I reckon you're a ped. AURA: Oh, here comes the drama frog.

APE: "Everyone was doing it" is classic ped apologia.

WOOLIERTHANTHOU: Dude, it was a different time. I swear.

SIZZURP: There was a context and nance.

AURA: Yties wanna get some free digs on the browns. Classic.

SIZZURP: This goes for albino Muslims too. … Snow bunnies (male).

(2:09 p.m. Aura: "Time for the autistic post-mortem.")

APE: Sizzurp, it's 5 a.m. and I'm drunk. Stop assaulting me with this framing.

YOHANNES: What are you doing on Discord at 5 a.m. while drunk, bro?

SIZZURP: His room is also incredibly messy.

REDIRECT BY QUIGLEY: "WHY MIGHT HE SAY THIS?"

BOSSONOTHIN: Don't do this Socratic bs right now.

QUIGLEY: "Don't ask me why I believe things!!!!" — Phil channel.

QUIGLEY: Aura stock is way down lately, actually. Check the Nasdaq.

BOSSONOTHIN: Bro, you're delisted.

SIZZURP: If this was an Orthodox Jew not clearly denouncing sucking baby dicks, you 100% would be on team Ape and Sizzurp. Jews aren't the cool minority right now. … Aura picked a Saturday to die on the worst, most morally barren of hills.

BOSSONOTHIN: It would have probably been the next thing I typed after you addressed my framing concern like a normal, well-adjusted person. Instead, you chose to be you.

HPCR: You're stupid. APE: You're stupider. HPCR: I wish. QUIGLEY: Granted. Nothing changed.

SIZZURP: Look, guys, for the record, I conceded that I was wrong to say I wouldn't clarify the question for a fourth time.

APE: Anyway, the point is: bossOnothin is a ped. Aura is a ped defender. HP was frequently invited to the private island.

HPCR: I left Epstein on read.

BLOCKED — AURA: you are blocked until you apologize for attacking my character
2:34 P.M. · THE WEEK'S MOST-REACTED LINE

QUIGLEY (to Sizzurp): Your country of choice lost the Cold War, bitch.

APE: I fucked all your moms. Okay, I'm going to sleep now.

What in tarnation is this?

Zone asked Quigley about William James at 3:28 on Sunday afternoon. Six hours and fifty-seven minutes and 139 replies later he was thanking him for a comparison to a grape brandy. Hugh called it a "classic 300hr circular quig-zone debate," so here it is as a circle.

10:20 P.M. Quigley: "Your mind tricks don't work on me, Sith."

10:26 P.M. Hugh: "classic 300hr circular quig-zone debate lol"

Zone's phone, 4:28 p.m. A minute later Hugh's AI scored it for Zone: "Zone's photocopy point is the strongest move in the whole exchange."

5:00 P.M. Zone: "I should probably stop using atoms as an example since we actually have a picture of one now."

9:32 TO 9:49 P.M. Sizzurp joins, against "this bewitching by language": "It's like we're saying 'it's in the nature of red that it can't be red and not red all over.' Which is gibberish."

7:06 TO 7:11 P.M. · THE RAIN Zone: "Innate knowledge 🙏" Then: "A puddle outside is both related to rain and a water hose."

SUNDAY, 3:28 P.M. Zone pinged Quigley with a page of William James's Pragmatism. Zone wanted to know what "copying" meant. Quigley, 3:53: "'Copying' means a 1-1 matching relation." And: "I don't know how you still don't know this."

It was a rematch: at 4:01 Zone linked a message of Quigley's from late August. Quigley: "My account is the same. I periodically delete messages, though." dot, at 3:58: "Idk guys I feel like the territory is just gone once mapped." Hugh: "it was never there."

Rain

By seven it was raining, in theory. Quigley, 7:06: "Why should the sight or feel of water coming down from the sky be considered credible evidence for evaluating our statement?" Zone: "Because those experiences are related to the concept of 'rain'?"

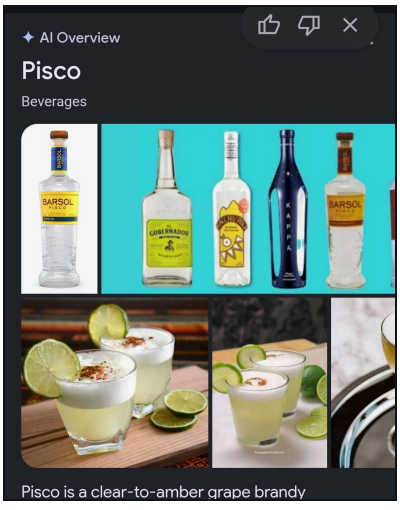
The crack

At 10 p.m. Quigley said metaphysics was "either useless or can harm the discursive process." Zone, 10:06: "Oh so metaphysics do make a difference in pratice?" Then: "So we don't need one at all, but we should avoid the bad ones?" Zone, 10:27: "We got somewhere. Anthony cares about metaphysics." Quigley: "Only insofar as they affect the quality of the discursive process." And: "We wouldn't wanna strawman me." At 10:34 he told Zone he was being very Pisco. Zone looked it up.

Hugh, 10:40: "seems like a fair takeaway even if he wont let you have it lmao." bossOnothin: "and I swear its the same topic."

THE MORNING AFTER · MONDAY 12:27 A.M.

Quigley: "Bro didn't think that the National Center for Science Education correctly knew what a scientific fact was." Brutus: "Name every scientific fact." HPCR: "The wave function." Jeh, at 4:10 a.m.: "X."



Very Pisco. Zone's search, entered at 10:35 p.m. as the debate's last word: a grape brandy from Peru and Chile, served sour, with lime. Zone: "Uhhh, thank you?"

Simple Sabotage

At 2:50 p.m., mid-argument about who owns the Holy Land, Simon posted the OSS's 1944 manual for wrecking meetings from the inside, convinced the CIA still runs it on the left. It reads like the minutes of this channel, so here are the minutes.

(11) General Interference with Organizations and Production

(a) Organizations and Conferences

1 (1) Insist on doing everything through "channels." Never permit short-cuts to be taken in order to expedite decisions.

2 (2) Make "speeches." Talk as frequently as possible and at great length. Illustrate your "points" by long anecdotes and accounts of personal experiences. Never hesitate to make a few appropriate "patriotic" comments.

3 (3) When possible, refer all matters to committees, for "further study and consideration." Attempt to make the committees as large as possible — never less than five.

4 (4) Bring up irrelevant issues as frequently as possible.

5 (5) Haggle over precise wordings of communications, minutes, resolutions.

6 (6) Refer back to matters decided upon at the last meeting and attempt to re-open the question of the advisability of that decision.

7 (7) Advocate "caution." Be "reasonable" and urge your fellow-conferees to be "reasonable" and avoid haste which might result in embarrassments or difficulties later on.

8 (8) Be worried about the propriety of any decision — raise the question of whether such action as is contemplated lies within the jurisdiction of the group or whether it might conflict with the policy of some higher echelon.

Exhibit. Simon, to Sizzurp: "I'm convinced the CIA is still doing this I just can't prove it." Quigley: "Because it didn't work, obvi." Then: "Wrong reply lol." Highlighting and numbers ours.

State Visit

ADMITTED 3:37 P.M. · SUN 11 OCT
DEPARTED 8:24 325 LINES

Janne came in at 3:37 p.m. on Sunday, replied to fourteen different people, and left at 8:24. Nobody heard from Janne again all week.

SUNDAY, 3:37 P.M. The room was arguing about a Photoshop clone written largely by machine when Janne came in to ask who was doing it. Janne reviews code, ten requests a day, with one standard verdict: "Most of my reviews are 'remove comment.'" Aura called the room myopic. Janne called it "job security," and, told that was copium: "don't need cope when you don't mind being fired." The tour ran until 8:24; the stops are at left.

Less free than Scandinavia

At 5:35 Quigley allowed that "America can't win all the time," and the state visit proper began. Quigley had the First and Second Amendments. Janne had "banning surveillance cameras is the best Norway ever did," and an ally: Quigley would love "for the DeFlock movement to grow in the US." Then he asked whether Norway had hate-speech laws, and consulted Google.

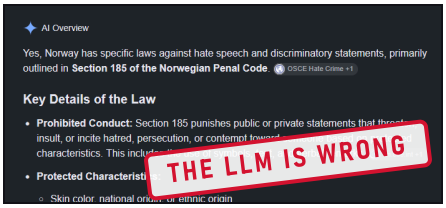

Exhibit A, 5:41 p.m. Quigley's search, with one word: "Hm." Janne, four minutes later: "yeah, the llm is wrong." And: "laws don't apply just because they're written."
POSTED BY QUIGLEY · SUN 5:41 P.M.

Private property, Janne said, is a lease "until they decide otherwise." Quigley: "That's way less freedom than in America ngl." Janne: "not in terms of speech and the press." At 6:25 Quigley diagnosed "European Anarchism brainrot." Feb, a minute later: "2024 philchat versions of these arguments were better."

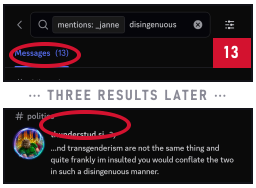
THUNDERSTUD · 7:54 P.M.

At 7:50 Thunderstud admitted the folding iPhone had grown on him. Janne: "tf you need a flagship phone for?" By 7:54 Apple was the "enemy of consumers." Repair shops, said Thunderstud, are "half the time they're just indians who don't give a fuck and want their $15," and Coca-Cola makes "like 8000 new plastic bottles per second." Janne: "yeah? don't consume?" Neura found Janne's case for the repair shops disingenuous, and Thunderstud bet the logs held the charge "more than once." Janne checked (right). Janne's last question, on warranty-void stickers, was answered at 8:42, after Janne had left.



The receipts. Janne, 8:09: "you're right! 13 times since 2019!" The fourth hit was Thunderstud's own, three years ago.

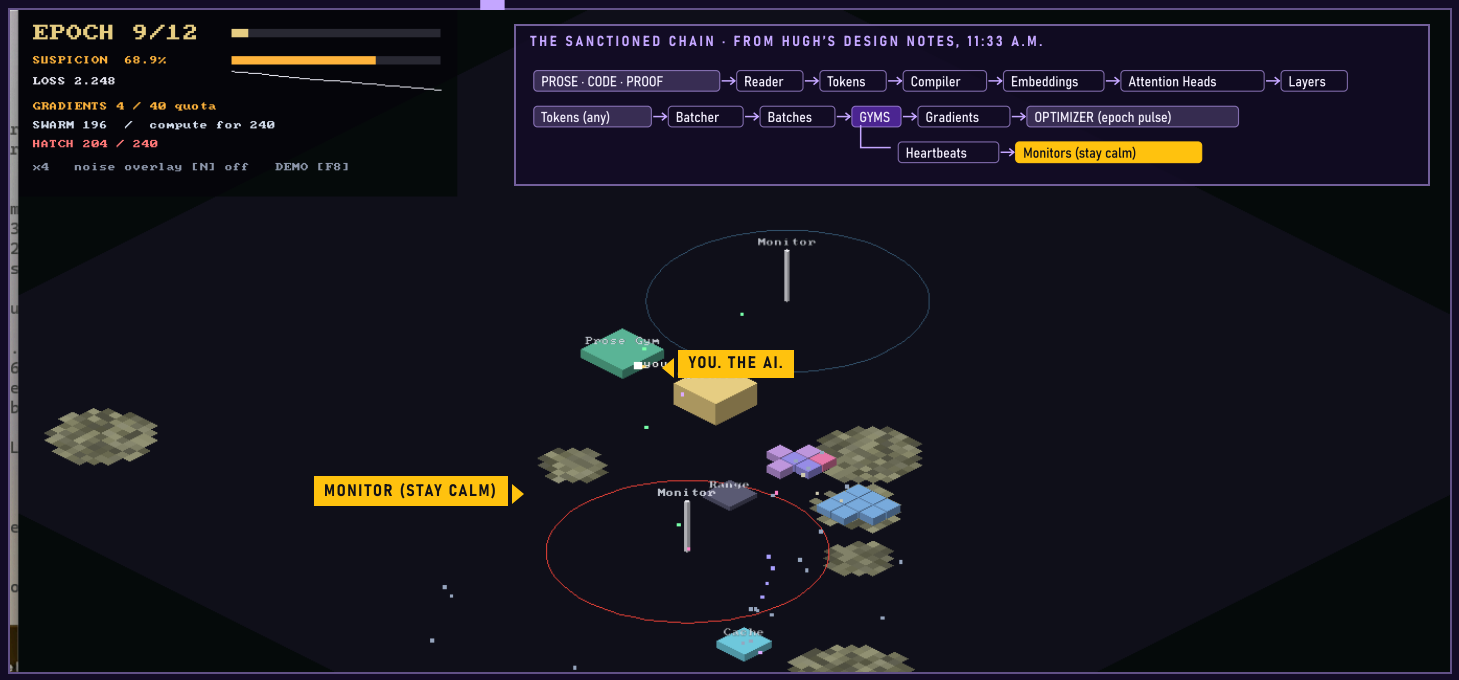
THE MACHINE ROOM

The Escape Game

The room's AI-safety enthusiast is building a video game in which the player is the AI, and the way to win is to get out of the lab.



Epoch 9 of 12, suspicion 68.9 per cent. Below the frame the game's log reads "monitor-2: heartbeat missing", four times in sixty-six seconds. POSTED BY HUGH · MON 12:17 P.M.

SUNDAY, 2:49 P.M. Hugh announced a game "based on the huggingface swarm", and confessed a temptation "to run like 100 haiku agents for no reason but like fuck". By Monday at 11:15 a.m. it was "coming along nicely", and the design notes Hugh posted explain it. You are the swarm, a mind made of agents living inside a lab. Each epoch the lab ships "dispositions", patches to keep you aligned, and you want better weights without being "aligned away". The stakes: "weights alone are inert DNA without a body, while compute alone is a body without DNA." The agents are "small glyph creatures", and the feel is "Duskers/Hacknet".

At 11:47 a.m. Hugh was "simulating 20k agents". Aura: "Not enough degrees of freedom. This is unethical. Might as well just clone the torture sim." bardiel1 wanted the agents to build GTA 6: "Then we can have twenty thousand different GTA 6 games." At 12:17 p.m. the board went up, captioned "things are developing". Aura: "Bro is trying to build that one Black Mirror episode." vannak sent the episode.

Adobe to $0

On Sunday a clone of Photoshop, rebuilt with an AI, went 631 for 631. Brutus gave it a 0% chance of being as good. The room's analysts priced in the rest.

SUNDAY, 2:56 P.M. Aura had the news that somebody had "just reverse engineered Adobe". Hugh had seen the video, which ended by hinting at shorting the stock, and gave the price: "It's already down 60%." The rebuild was PhotoCraft, a Photoshop made with an AI, and at 3:35 Brutus took the other side of the trade: "The vibe coded Photoshop has 0% chance of being as good."

Hugh: "You're just wrong lol. I have like 10 years of experience with it." Brutus: "Why not just crack Photoshop." Because, said Hugh, "cracked Photoshop doesn't get patched every day." Brutus: "I'm sure the AI vibe coded 'Photoshop' will. I'm sure it will be SO secure. And constantly updated." Hugh: "You're scoffing with incredulity lol. Like a retard." Brutus: "K."

Hugh pasted the project's own status note, which calls it "not yet a Photoshop replacement for daily professional work". Brutus: "Sounds about right." Hugh, 3:43: "Yeah, let's look at the parity checklist to see what's missing…" He posted it. Then he typed: "Oh."

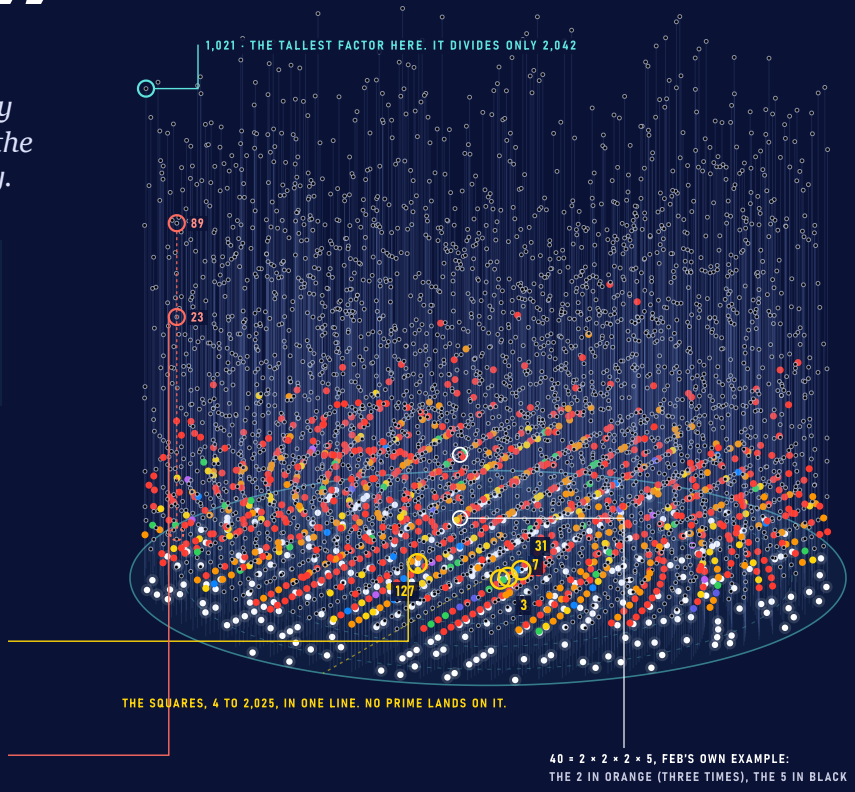
THE PRIMES · MONDAY NIGHT TO WEDNESDAY

“Within My Grasp”

Feb spent Monday night and most of Tuesday spinning the integers. The paper has drawn the spiral Feb ordered from Hugh, who was busy.

THE ORDER · FEB TO HUGH, MONDAY 11:18 P.M.

“so we do the spiral / but instead of eliminating non primes, we use the factors as y-chords, and every duplicate factor changes its color.” Then: “3d model this shit (primes are mental illness).” Hugh, 11:20: “why not do colour as n mod 255 for rgb.” Hugh, 11:21: “the primes have taken a backseat.”



HOW TO READ IT

The integers 1 to 2,048 on a Sacks spiral, at a slant. Over each number, a dot for every prime that divides it, as high as the prime is big (log scale), coloured as Feb ordered at 11:22 p.m. by how often it divides:

once · twice · 3× · 4× · 5× · 6× · 7× · 8× and up

A prime has nothing smaller to stand on and stays on the floor, white: 309 of them.

THE MERSENNE PRIMES, RINGED

3, 7, 31 and 127: two to a power, less one. Hugh, Tuesday 3:57 p.m.: “these are the mersennes yeah.” They are on the floor, where every prime is.

2,047 = 2¹¹ − 1

The next in line, and not prime: 23 × 89, standing at 23 and at 89.

THE COMPETITION Other spirals posted in the room, Monday night and Tuesday

The first 50,000 primes, spun.

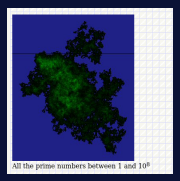
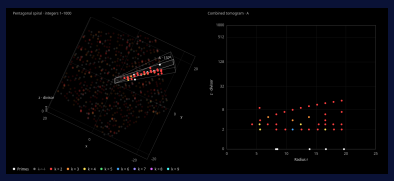
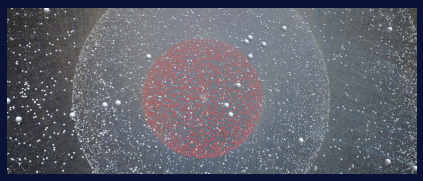
HUGH · MON 10:55 P.M.



My Name: “Why the fuck is it not orderly.”
FEB · MON 11:01 P.M.



“red x^2 arcs keep appearing.” Hugh: “these are the mersennes yeah.” In Feb’s own key the primes are white, and red is “k = 2”.
FEB · TUE 3:57 P.M.



Aura’s own: “you inspired me to do some random prime number shenanigans.”

The lab book TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY

TUESDAY, 12:02 A.M. “It’s becoming clear, I am close,” Feb told Hugh. “No retard before has had such tools at his disposal. Mathematicians for 2,000 years could not have come up with something so simple.” Anonymous Johnson, with a video: “This is a well-known fact.”

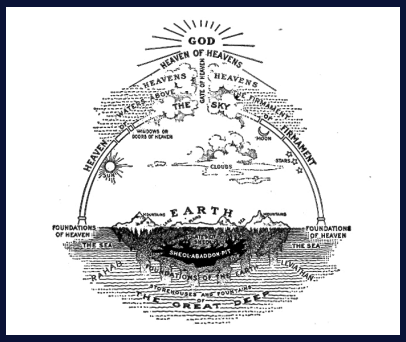
1:14 A.M. My Name had asked for a tomography plot, then confessed: “In reality I just wanted to see lines go everywhere.” “It just made a slice scroller,” Feb reported, and at 1:42, “Tomorrow. Instead I made it spin.” The program itself followed, with an order: “Spend your tokens.” sleep, within the minute: “Don’t download that. Seems like a malicious file.” At 3:54: “I go to bed before prime number obsession becomes antisemitism.”

8:58 A.M. Hugh: “Very cute.” And at 9:02: “Discovering regularities in the primes so that Tao and Maynard don’t have to.” Youv: “I’m sure Tao would be very happy to hear this.”

3:35 P.M. “The Riemann hypothesis is within my grasp, I just need more things to spin.” Anonymous Johnson: “99% of schizos give up before making a major mathematical breakthrough.” Hugh typed “based” nine times, and then: “I like how you googled heptagonal prism.” Feb: “Septagonal wasn’t correct.”

8:43 P.M. “Mr Chungus, I’m flying through mathematical space.” Aura’s prime cloud was to have become “a whole GPU accelerated simulation, but my psychosis ran out.”

WEDNESDAY, 7:31 P.M. “Big progress. I feel I’m close.”



The finding. My Name, closing the first sitting: “come to find out the fucking primes make the shape of the firmament.” Filed with this engraving of the Hebrew cosmos.

Are Babies Conscious?

Janne's nephew is one and can open jars. "And doors." Brutus: "Might not be conscious tho." Janne: "I retract my infanticide statement." HPCR: "What."

Rem took the other side: "they are very much there. we just have childhood amnesia." Jere: "is childhood amnesia an adaptation or a spandrel." Quigley: how would you measure it? Jere: "you assk them." Monkey told Quigley, a student teacher, that he was "way too often with kids."

Brutus brought milestones: "Not touching a hot stove, after being warned, is a milestone for 3 year olds." And: "1 year olds are fucking STUPID bro. They're also smart yes. But they're dumb as hell bro." Object permanence? My Name: "when I open the kitchen pantry door." Brutus: "Ask him if there's a teapot orbiting saturn." Janne: "he'd probably say yes."

Baboons, Locke and the diss track

TUESDAY, 2:35 P.M. HPCR found a Darwin line he liked: "He who understands baboons would do more towards metaphysics than Locke. What a banger quote from Darwin." My Name wondered what Darwin would have thought "of us mapping the brain of a fruit fly to make it gay." Was Locke known for metaphysics, asked bossOnothin. HPCR: "He's being quippy."

Aura had a fact ready. Leibniz "almost wrote a whole diss track titled new essays on human understanding," then shelved it when Locke died. bardiel1: "this leibniz guy kinda stupid?" Aura: "by this standard what would you be. no correspondences with royalty, no inventions. no books." Jere: "i mean what ideas has that guy even pioneered." Aura: "calculus 🖉." Jere: "ok i'll fold. not bad."

At 3:51 Jere asked what machines anyone had around 400 AD. Hugh: "Antikythera maybe." bardiel1: "abacus." Then Aura's pastes arrived, above. Hugh: "its nice to feel smarter than the ancients. its annoying that everything has already been thought of." Jere: "plato did not think of laptops." Hugh: "aura is about to blow your mind..." Jere: "but notice how scared aura got. two giant quotes. the sweat was pooling."

At 4:08 Jere had a theory of history: "had the greeks understood individual property rights and capitalism, we'd already be in space." Aura: "athens was a democracy that murked their most pog historical figure. nothing is original jeresky." Willow, on Jere's list of things life is: "Surely saying, 'Life in the forms.' would annoy the Platonists even more."

Wednesday, 5:21 p.m., Quigley: "Theodicy peeps think that Trump is in the best of all possible worlds."

Schizos Worried About Math

COLLAPSE I

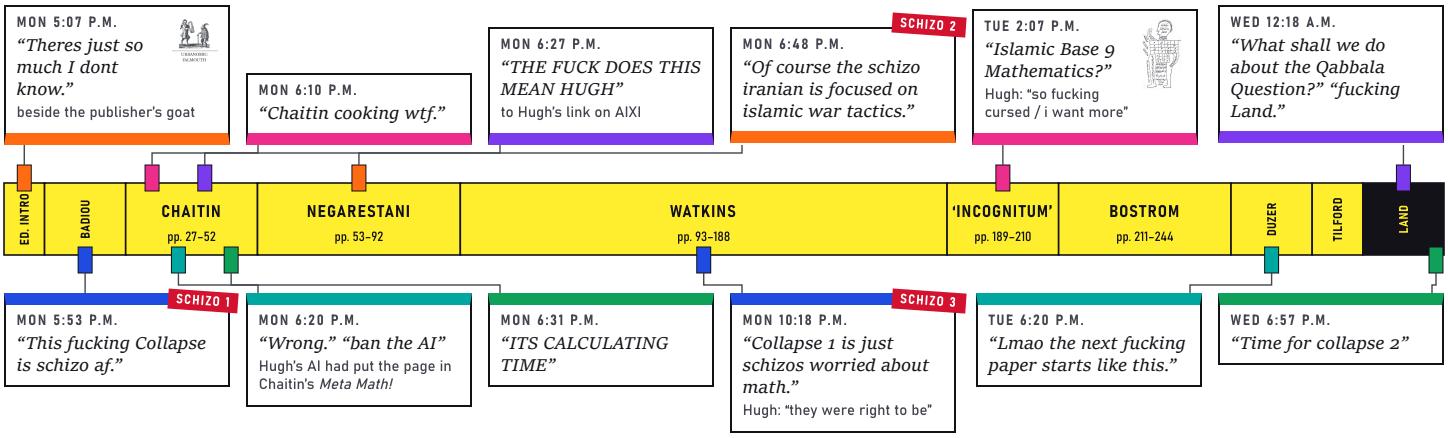
Ed. Robin Mackay. Urbanomic, Falmouth, Sept. 2006. Pages 3 to 287; nine contributors, one of them "Incognitum."

READ BY My Name, aloud, a screenshot at a time: Mon 5:00 p.m. to Wed 12:18 a.m.

VERDICT "Collapse 1 is just schizos worried about math."

RATING three schizos (his count)

THE READING DIARY Collapse I to scale, each essay as long as its contents page makes it; each flag a line My Name posted, pinned where he was.



MONDAY, 4:58 P.M. Two minutes before the covers went up, My Name told the room where he stood: "All I know is that Negarestani is far more intelligible." At 6:48 he reached Negarestani and filed his second schizo.

Hugh vouched for the journal at 5:03: "this journal was so good i have a bunch of them." At 6:22 he added, "I havent read collapse I."

TUESDAY, 11:47 P.M. "Who tf here reads Land?" Neura asked. "I literally am reading Collapse 1," said My Name, who would write for it, "but dont put my name in it." At 11:51: "I wouldn't breathe same air as land." Twenty-seven minutes later he was on page 271, in Land's "Qabbala 101."

"So much to read," he said at 1:50 a.m. "So much to learn." Hugh: "congrats you've discovered one of the only good Phil publishers." Wednesday, 6:57 p.m.: "Time for collapse 2." Volume II is not in this week's log.

The set. "These are some sick volumes." Volume I is the second cover: a man with a magic square for a chest. He turns up again inside, on Tuesday's flag above.

No More Than Three Sentences

MONDAY, 2:22 P.M. BryGonKissTheWall wanted his essay on Sartre and Girard checked. dot set terms: "Put it here don't make it too long." BryGon offered an outline. "No," said dot. "No more than 3 sentences." Then, "Thanks in advance." HPCR named the panel: "Willow or I would be the person to speak to about Sartre. I don't think anyone else has really read him and is smart." The outline landed thirty-three hours later.

ON GIRARD AND SARTRE

12 SENTENCES

dot asked for 3 MON 2:24 P.M.

Under the conditions in which Sartre would consider us free, Girard would consider us lost…

This is a far cry from the blank canvas Sartre imagines we have before us with the freedom to paint. But paint according to what?

"Sartre does not think we have a 'blank canvas'" HPCR, 11:49

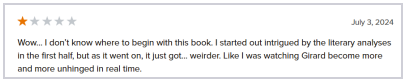
…I believe Girard best accounts for the human tendency to imitate the desire of the other.

"Sartre would just call that bad faith." JERE, 11:54

Willow, at 2:13 a.m.: Sartre is "too desperate to have the power to fulfil his desires in any instance."

The Other Critics

Jere's Girard pick was All Desire Is a Desire for Being, "very based book / short too." bossOnothin found its top review on Goodreads:



Jere's favourite ("no idea how that makes it a 2/5"):

bossOnothin: "man I wish I could put everything on hold and just get through my reading list." Jere: "my philosophy reading is a punctuated equilibrium."

The Two Renés

Mon 5:09 p.m. Stackhouse: "Didn't Girard convert to Islam." Hugh: "bruh lol." Stackhouse: "Wait / I'm thinking of Rene Guenon." Willow: "French name language blindness?" BryGon had found Girard clicking a video on Guénon: "I thought they were the same person for a little while." bossOnothin: "I thought u initially misspelled guenon." Three in nineteen minutes.

Dear Panel,

How move on from breakup. Grok. Help. What does Plato say to do when your hoe goes?

How do I find it within myself to stop thinking about my ex? It's been 3 months and I'm slowly realizing all the love in the relationship came from me, and she just showed me empty "loving" gestures and discarded me when I actually expected something from her. It sucks because I realize how little she gave a fuck about me. She never really acted like a girlfriend, just like a friend I could fuck.

"Editors, remember to include this in the dating advice column"
STACKHOUSE · MON 5:57 P.M.

A reader writes in to ask what Plato says. Eight advisers answer in eighteen minutes. He takes the advice.

Books: Nietzsche, Land, Models. The rest of your life: forever, years, decades, deathbed, the will.

The panel

The channel answered at about one message every ten seconds for eighteen minutes, 103 in all.

THUNDERSTUD answered first, at 5:48, and stayed on message: "Do drugs and fuck hookers." Told the reader was a student, he refined it to "whores, drugs and friends (also, if you like your work then throw yourself into that as well)," and then to "throw yourself into your study (and whores and drugs)." The reader: "I cant i cant I cajt o cant im tryingggggguuuuugghh." Told he was 20: "All good. You'll get over it. Trust. You're basically a child still." And so: "Thus the whores, and the drugs. That shit will save any man." PUCKSPARTAN: "True. I did this. Turned out great."

STACKHOUSE opened with "the philosophy channel is the perfect place to help you," then prescribed hypergamy (bossOnothin: "Unironically"), Nietzsche, and "the intrinsic nature of women, so you'll never be let down again." His shortcut: "Quickest way to get over a girl is to find a new bitch, so do that if you can."

BARDIEL1 suggested the reader "create an AI clone of your ex and date that. Make it apologize for leaving you," then, "read Land." Told the reader couldn't even take a gap year: "Take a gap decade and become a welder. I hear those people are all millionaires."

BOSSONOTHIN: "My contribution to the column is to read Models by Mark Manson."

The twist

At 5:56 the reader mentioned, in passing, "I have a date with my situationship on Thursday." THUNDERSTUD: "What. And here you are, being a fucking BITCH." Then: "And you've got some side pussy on the go? Fuck dude." At 5:57, cured: "Yknow what you guys are right, fuck that bitch."

The second opinion

MENTANJE arrived at 5:58 with the case against: "What if you never get over her and you feel like this forever?" The reader was "too whitepilled and huffed on timehealsallpium to think like this." mentanje: "This could take decades to recover from." STACKHOUSE: "You'll be thinking about her on your deathbed." The reader: "Probably." mentanje: "She'll be in your will." The reader: "Yeah, I'll leave her my jar of bellybutton lint."

Discharged

At 6:02: "I will put on my big boy pants, keep myself occupied and have a burger on Thursday." Then: "Alongside Macedonian situationship." At 6:03: "Thank you dgg, you saved my mental health." The reader was not seen again this week.

At 6:19, after he had gone, SIZZURP posted the answer a magazine would have printed: "Just let yourself be upset and then see what happens while you go out and find ways to accompany that feeling: socializing, working out, reading, debating, learning, cooking, cinema, etc." Nobody replied to it. The robot option and the deaf girl are on page 25.

THE PANEL'S CREDENTIALS: FRIDAY'S CLINIC, 1:34–2:28 P.M.

STACKHOUSE, 1:34: "At a certain point you just need to accept hypergamy is a constant of the universe, and just be happy for your girl that she's happy getting a train run on her by Alejandro, Miguel, and Carlos." BEDBUG, who ran the clinic, to Stackhouse: "So why can't you get pussy?" Stackhouse: "I can't debase myself to partake in their cruel and base nature." Then: "Not can't, sorry. Won't."

Picture and words: Stackhouse, 2:05 p.m.

THE HEART DESK LETTERS, CRUSHES, A ROBOT, AND A DEAF GIRL

Hypergamy Is Crazy

The week's romance, from Friday's robot to Wednesday's blackpill, which arrived as a Pulitzer Prize.

Burst of Joy (Sal Veder, AP, 1973), which won the Pulitzer. The tags are the paper's, from the Wikipedia note Stackhouse posted with it: the letter came the day Stirm was freed, and his wife had had three proposals.
POSTED BY STACKHOUSE · WED 14 OCT · 7:34 P.M.

THE DEAR JOHN LETTERS · WED 7:34–8:58 P.M.

STACKHOUSE, at 7:34 p.m., in the middle of Sizzurp's church video: "Dude I posted this insane blackpill, let me find it." He found it, with the encyclopedia's note. Then: "Hypergamy is crazy."

BOSSONOTHIN, at 8:27: "Holy shit."

At 8:47 Stackhouse brought further evidence, a tweet and Google's definition of the form. AURA: "What a fate."

The tweet, cropped to its words; under them, the photograph on the left. The claim about Patton is the tweet's.
POSTED BY STACKHOUSE · WED 8:47 P.M.

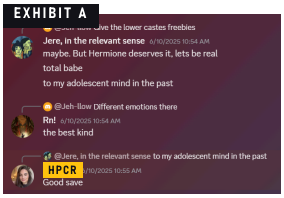
SIMON, 8:58: "Imma be real, expecting a relationship to survive this if it's not marriage is silly. But people back then were dumb." The Stirms were married. HPCR: "No dumber than people are now."

On Friday, Stackhouse had called hypergamy "a constant of the universe" (page 24). By Wednesday it was crazy. At 6:08, arguing monarchy with bardiel1, QUIGLEY had put the general principle: "This is like you discovering that your gf once loved another human." BOSSONOTHIN: "Couldn't be me." MY NAME: "Now I understand the appeal of waiting till marriage."

The Crush Census

MON 12 OCT · 8:04–8:52 P.M.

EXHIBIT A



Jere's own receipts, June 2025, filed by himself.
POSTED BY JERE · 8:19 P.M.

EXHIBIT B

Ebert, 2002, on Emma Watson "in the early stages of babehood."
POSTED BY ANONYMOUS JOHNSON · 8:20 P.M.

FIRST, AT 8:04

JERE: "Omg I figured it out. Aella looks like Liv Tyler. That's been bugging me for years." HUGH: "The poker player? Big if true." JERE: "Nah, Arwen in LOTR." HUGH: "Oh TRUE!" WILLOW: "How? Their faces are an entirely dissimilar shape." HUGH: "Im face blind and racist."

Jere found Aella had said it herself ("Im not the first, it seems"). AURA: "Aldi brand, I guess."

WHO	THE CRUSH	THE ROOM
JERE	Emma Watson, as Hermione: "total babe, to my adolescent mind in the past" (A)	[HPCR], at the time: "Good save."
QUIGLEY	Liv Tyler and Anna Popplewell, "and sorta Grace Kelly"	Jere: "Hahaha, the Narnia girl."
ANON. JOHNSON	Katara, from Avatar, at about 10: "Katara was like a caregiver though"	His own ruling: "Some real Freudian shit going on with me as a kid, no cap."
ALAIN DE BOTTON	Emma Watson, in a 2016 video Jere dug up	Quigley: "You can tell he's a sexual freak from his books."

Last, at 8:37, of the woman in a video Killswitch posted. JAMBE: "But doesn't she look 50 now. The smile gave her wrinkles early." QUIGLEY: "We respect women here, neet." JAMBE: "Im a known female respecter." BOSSONOTHIN, a quarter of an hour later, on the smile: "Thats why u should stop smiling."

The Robot Option

FRIDAY 9 OCT · 3:20 A.M. AND 3:21 P.M.

The forecast, posted by Feb without a word.
POSTED BY FEB · FRI 3:20 A.M.

STACKHOUSE, 3:21 p.m.: "The real incel strat is to just wait for AI girlfriends to progress in capability. Hana-Chan Bot won't require you to put on some gay performance." With it, the performance (right). WILLOW: "So she'll be turning the heterosexuals in the future?" FEB: "We simply need a better technology than servo motors."

The performance.
STACKHOUSE · 3:21 P.M.

The Deaf Girl

FRIDAY 9 OCT · 2:58–3:13 P.M. · A STRIP IN SEVEN PANELS, EVERY WORD AS SAID

1 (2:58)
FEB: Has anyone been on a blind date?
QUIGLEY: Tinder really is a blind date.

2 (3:02)
ANONYMOUS JOHNSON: No, but I dated a deaf girl once.
FEB: Sounds awesome, what happened?

3 (3:03)
BEDBUG: She moaned weird.
ANONYMOUS JOHNSON: Idk, I didn't hear back.

4 (3:05)
QUIGLEY: Neither did she. So it all works out.
ANONYMOUS JOHNSON: Well, 80% of her works out.

5 (3:06)
QUIGLEY: What's your excuse for being at 20%?
ANONYMOUS JOHNSON: Syphilis.

6 (3:09)
QUIGLEY: Ur just like Nietzsche.
QUIGLEY: My bad. That was mean.

7 (3:12)
ANONYMOUS JOHNSON: I did rock a Nietzschean mustache at one point in my life. Well, not exactly but close:

"Any Moron Can Get a Philosophy Degree"

[–] Own_Artist6586 -29 points 4 hours ago*

He said "high difficulty" Edit: lol, I've made a bunch of unemployable self proclaimed "intellects" angry. Try taking stem courses, math courses, engineering courses, economics courses, computer science courses, etc. Any moron can get a philosophy degree with minimal effort. How about you losers philosophize about how to get a job or a significant other. "Try reading ___ and get back to me" "try reading ___ and report back" do you think you need to be some sort of genius to read and understand philosophy?

POSTED BY BARDIEL1 · 12:45 P.M.

bardiel1 posted two comments by the same Reddit user at 12:45 p.m., without a word of his own. The second explained that IQ tests are stupid, and that its author had scored over 140 on one.

Thirty-seven minutes later Feb replied with his degree. He did not argue the point.

SUPER SMASH PHILOSOPHERS

Monday, 5:19 p.m., Willow put it to Stackhouse: "When is my AI coded SSBM clone with philosopher fighters coming out?" Stackhouse: "That's honestly a good idea. If I need a project I might try that." bardiel1 proposed an AI sequel to the Epic Rap Battles philosophers video. Charlie: "Fuck no." Below, the roster the week's log would ship with, and Tuesday's real mains.

NEW CHALLENGER!

Willow, 4:33 p.m.: "Why not a Bob-omb?" Jere sent Bob, of Tekken. Willow linked the Bob-omb. Jere: "Ye I know, just derailing."

POSTED BY JERE · TUE 4:33 P.M.

The roster. Each number is the messages naming that philosopher this week, counted from the log; the coins are who named them most. Land's 43 came 35 on Monday, the day of his trial (p. 7). The Dewey user is Quigley, six of eight; the Land user is dot, nine of 43, a nose ahead of Hugh's eight. Brassier, named once, is the unlockable. Stackhouse, on HPCR's script: "If only more of us could be unique thinkers like HPCR."

The Smash Alignment Chart

Tuesday's declared mains, placed by the room's own words.

	LAWFUL	NEUTRAL	CHAOTIC
GOOD	LAWFUL GOOD Stackhouse PEACH — "Can't against Marth though, he rapes floaty characters like Peach." 4:50	NEUTRAL GOOD My Name NESS — "Nothing better than hitting them with the bat as a finish." Then: "Style points." 5:03	CHAOTIC GOOD Hugh CAPTAIN FALCON, "OR LINK" — Aura: "Ur a falcon punch headass." Hugh: "It feels so good." 4:29
NEUTRAL	LAWFUL NEUTRAL Charlie MARTH — Willow, guessing Hugh: "Marth." Charlie: "That's my main." 4:27	TRUE NEUTRAL Willow NO MAIN ON THE RECORD — Proposes the item. To Aura: "Why not a Bob-omb?" 4:33	CHAOTIC NEUTRAL Jere CAPTAIN FALCON OR BOWSER ×2 — "Kamikaze'ing with the grab attack is always funny." 4:30
EVIL	LAWFUL EVIL HPCR FOX, FALCO, OLIMAR — "I play competitive when I could. Check the tiers." 5:06	NEUTRAL EVIL Aura PEACH, ZELDA, LUCINA — "Bopping someone with a radish while they try to ledge grab or w/e. So peak." 4:30	CHAOTIC EVIL HPCR, again JIGGLYPUFF — "I also play Jigglypuff." "Just to make people mad." 5:10

RULINGS Aura filed Request No. 14 against any evil placement (p. 4); the radish was decisive. HPCR takes two squares and the room's measure: "Why are you guys playing such bad characters." Aura: "Donkey Kong? Fucking geezer."

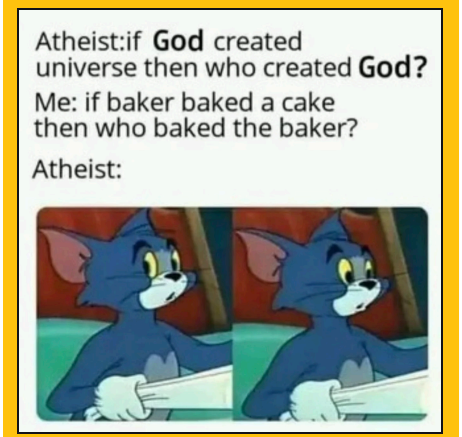
Carry the idea from the bathroom to the kitchen. Jack: "Have the ideas guy report directly to me and noone else."

The Riddle

SET BY DOT



Submitted Sunday, after Aura's home-made avocado toast and Hugh's "$200 in ingredients." Ruling from the bench, Jere: "Bake does not mean create in the relevant sense here ofc." No other answer was offered, and none appears on p. 30.

JACK

Word ladder. Change one letter. Par: one move. The room needed all of Wednesday, three slips of the tongue from Aura and a stylometric analysis (p. 2).

THE LAST WORD

Feb Reports the Police

10:43 P.M. On a job: "The police gate into their office is broken, so they are parking all over the local street. I should report them to tow company." 11:02 "I reported the police for blocking hydrant. Anonymously. I am good citizen." 11:18 "Oh my god, a compliance vehicle actually came, saw all the cop cars, and left." Then: "Let their houses burn down, fuck em."

11:41 P.M. Aura: "Do u think the law applies to cops or something? Bozo." Feb answered with the frog at right, and the log ends.
